Use pesticides as a last resort

If you must use pesticide:

- Read label and follow directions.
- Never use outdoor pesticides inside the house.
- Keep pesticides in their original container.
- Try safe ways of killing roaches, like boric acid or bait and trap.
- If you are using a certified pest control applicator, do not use any pesticides of your own on top of what the exterminator is using, as it will make both ineffective.
- Only buy pesticides with an EPA registration number.

If you hire someone to kill the roaches in your home remember to ask:

- If they are a certified pest control applicator.
- What work they will be doing in your house.
- What chemicals will be used.
